Headline:
Largely dry with sunny spells. Cold and frosty overnight.

Today:
A bright but chilly start, with some patches of frost. Patchy cloud developing through the morning bringing the risk of a few light showers, but generally it will be dry with spells of sunshine. Maximum temperature 7 deg C (45 deg F).

Tonight:
The odd light shower continuing near the coast, otherwise it will be a dry night with occasional clear spells. Cold, with frost and isolated freezing fog patches forming by dawn. Minimum temperature -3 deg C (27 deg F).

Saturday:
Isolated fog clearing to leave a largely dry and sunny start, but cold. Patchy cloud will increase through the day allowing the odd light shower to develop. Maximum temperature 7 deg C (45 deg F).

Outlook for Sunday to Tuesday:
Sunday and Monday, dry with light winds and some sunny spells, although chilly with patchy frost overnight. Milder Tuesday, but cloudy with patchy rain spreading eastwards.
